Foreword

"All the world's a stage, and all the people merely actors."
 AS YOU LIKE IT

How we play our parts is an important aspect in all our lives; and the members of the El Burro staff have decided to make this yearbook a permanent record of the activities at school, and the way we carried out our respective roles.

Many of Shakespeare's quotations typify the activities at Burroughs, connecting high school life with the stage. By inserting a few of his more famous lines throughout the book, we feel you will find it easier to recall the parts you played this year in academic life, in activities, and in sports.

We hope this book will remain a prized possession of yours, and that it will help you remember the many good times you had in high school, "tomorrow, tomorrow, and tomorrow . . ."

John

. . . We have only gratitude to give you

For your cheery greeting in the mornings,

For your untiring patience on trips,

And for the friendship you have given.

You have performed a service for us,

But you have done it in such a way that everyone

Has a place for you in his own private memories.

It is because of this spirit in which you serve that we Dedicate our annual to you . . . JOHN BATTISTONE.

Have fun this summer and

The Board of Trustees, with Mr. T. L. McCuen as a chief administrator, controls the school district of which Burroughs is a part. The members have the responsibility of adopting and administering school policies.

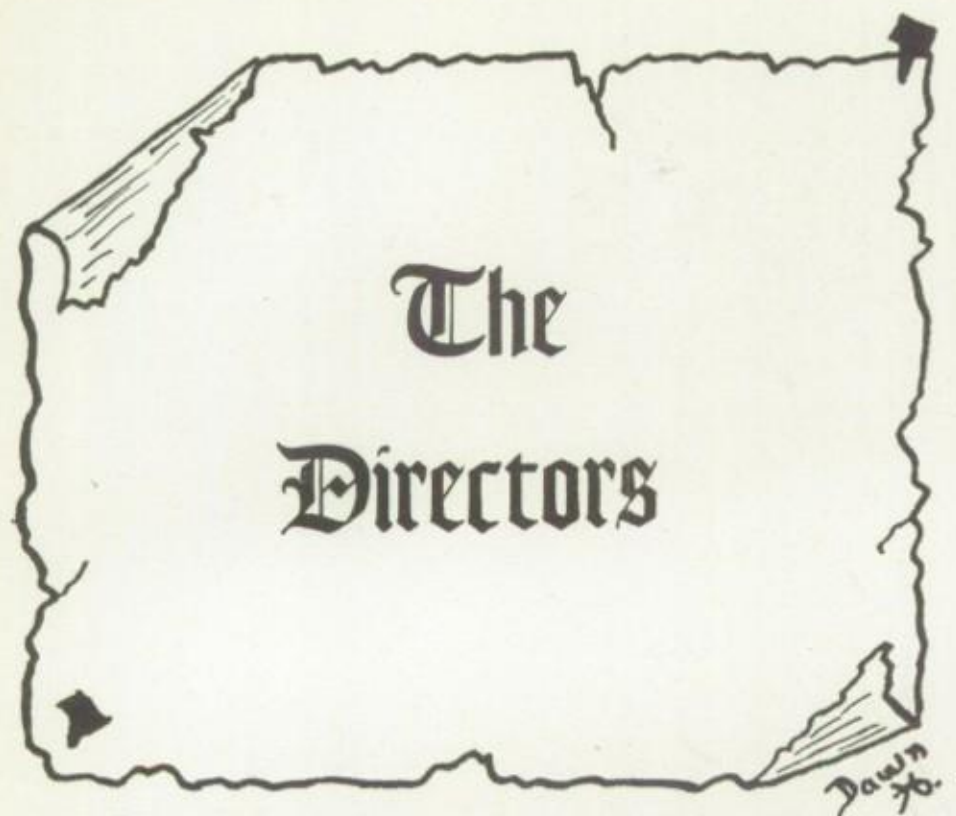

Our school has been greatly improved in financial support, in administrative and teaching personnel, and through the broadening of curriculum by our Principal, Dr. Earl Murray.

In addition to supervising student registration, class schedules, and the activity program, Mr. Kenneth Westcott, our Vice Principal, also holds the position of friend and adviser.

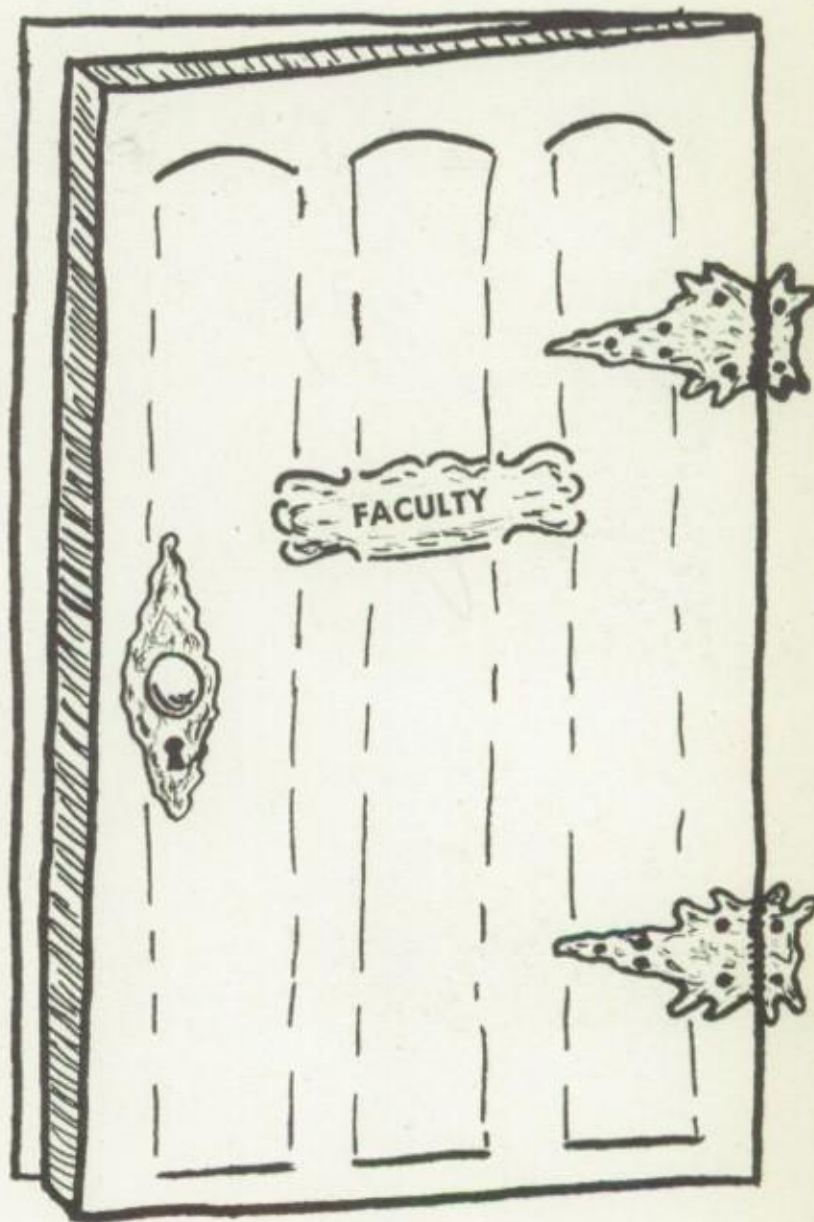

*Best Wishes Nancy
See you next year
Mr. Westcott*

Our faculty guides and directs us as we study the parts we have been given to play on the stage of life.

We remember them for their counseling and concern for our careers, also for their efforts to better our school; for their time and energy spent assisting us in our school activities.

These are the persons who make school life more interesting, exciting and complete by showing us the way to knowledge and by giving us a better understanding of life's stage, the world.

Joe Carson*

"To be or not to be..." HAMLET

'Tis time to part . . . this successful senior year has passed swiftly amidst the pressing activities.

The first formal of the year was held in the cafetorium and an enjoyable evening was spent dancing to the melodies of Hal Campbell and his Millionaires. Effective decorations for the Senior Ball were centered around the theme, "Birth of the Blues."

On March 4th, the seniors presented their usual extravaganza for the annual play competition. They sought out hidden talent and successfully put on an enjoyable production.

Senior holiday arrived in May and it was on a Friday morning that they departed in private cars for a day of most deserved recreation.

Then senior banquet, baccalaureate, and, finally commencement exercises arrived . . . the class of '55 will always be remembered for their constant drive and ambition.

Understudies

As upper classmen the juniors attended the Senior Ball and put on their own Junior Prom. They received their class rings and were very much satisfied. A junior float, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs", won first place in the Homecoming Parade. Their class play was well staged and presented. They learned to "be patient to the last" — their senior year.

Officers of the junior class: Norma Ives, treasurer; John Booty, vice president; Suzanne Hough, president; Alice Cotner, secretary.

The sophomores at times seem to have "much ado about nothing", but they are "as merry as the day is long." Their Soc Hop was a great success, as was their class play. They also applied a fresh coat of paint to the Kelly Memorial and staged after-game dances. Their Homecoming Parade float, "A Star Is Born", was awarded third place.

Extras

"They are all welcome" . . . HAMLET :

This year's freshman class, our Alma Mater's largest, proved themselves by their many projects and accomplishments. As all freshman classes must, they painted the "B". They also sponsored a box social, and several after-game dances. Their float, "Peter Pan", won second prize in the Homecoming Parade. They staged the traditional Freshman Frolic and presented an enjoyable play.

"Tongues out — thermometers in!" So goes the day of our school nurses, Mildred Kirby and Cornelia Richey. They help keep all of our actors and directors healthy and happy.

A little lady with a big job is Audrey Lamson, Library Assistant. She is in charge of the Burroughs "scripts" — the books stored in our text-book room.

The men and women who work on the "sets" are our maintenance staff — they keep all props bright and shiny, and now and then they alter them. Many of the staff have double jobs and help with the transportation. Clyde Hamilon, Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds, is pictured in the front row, center.

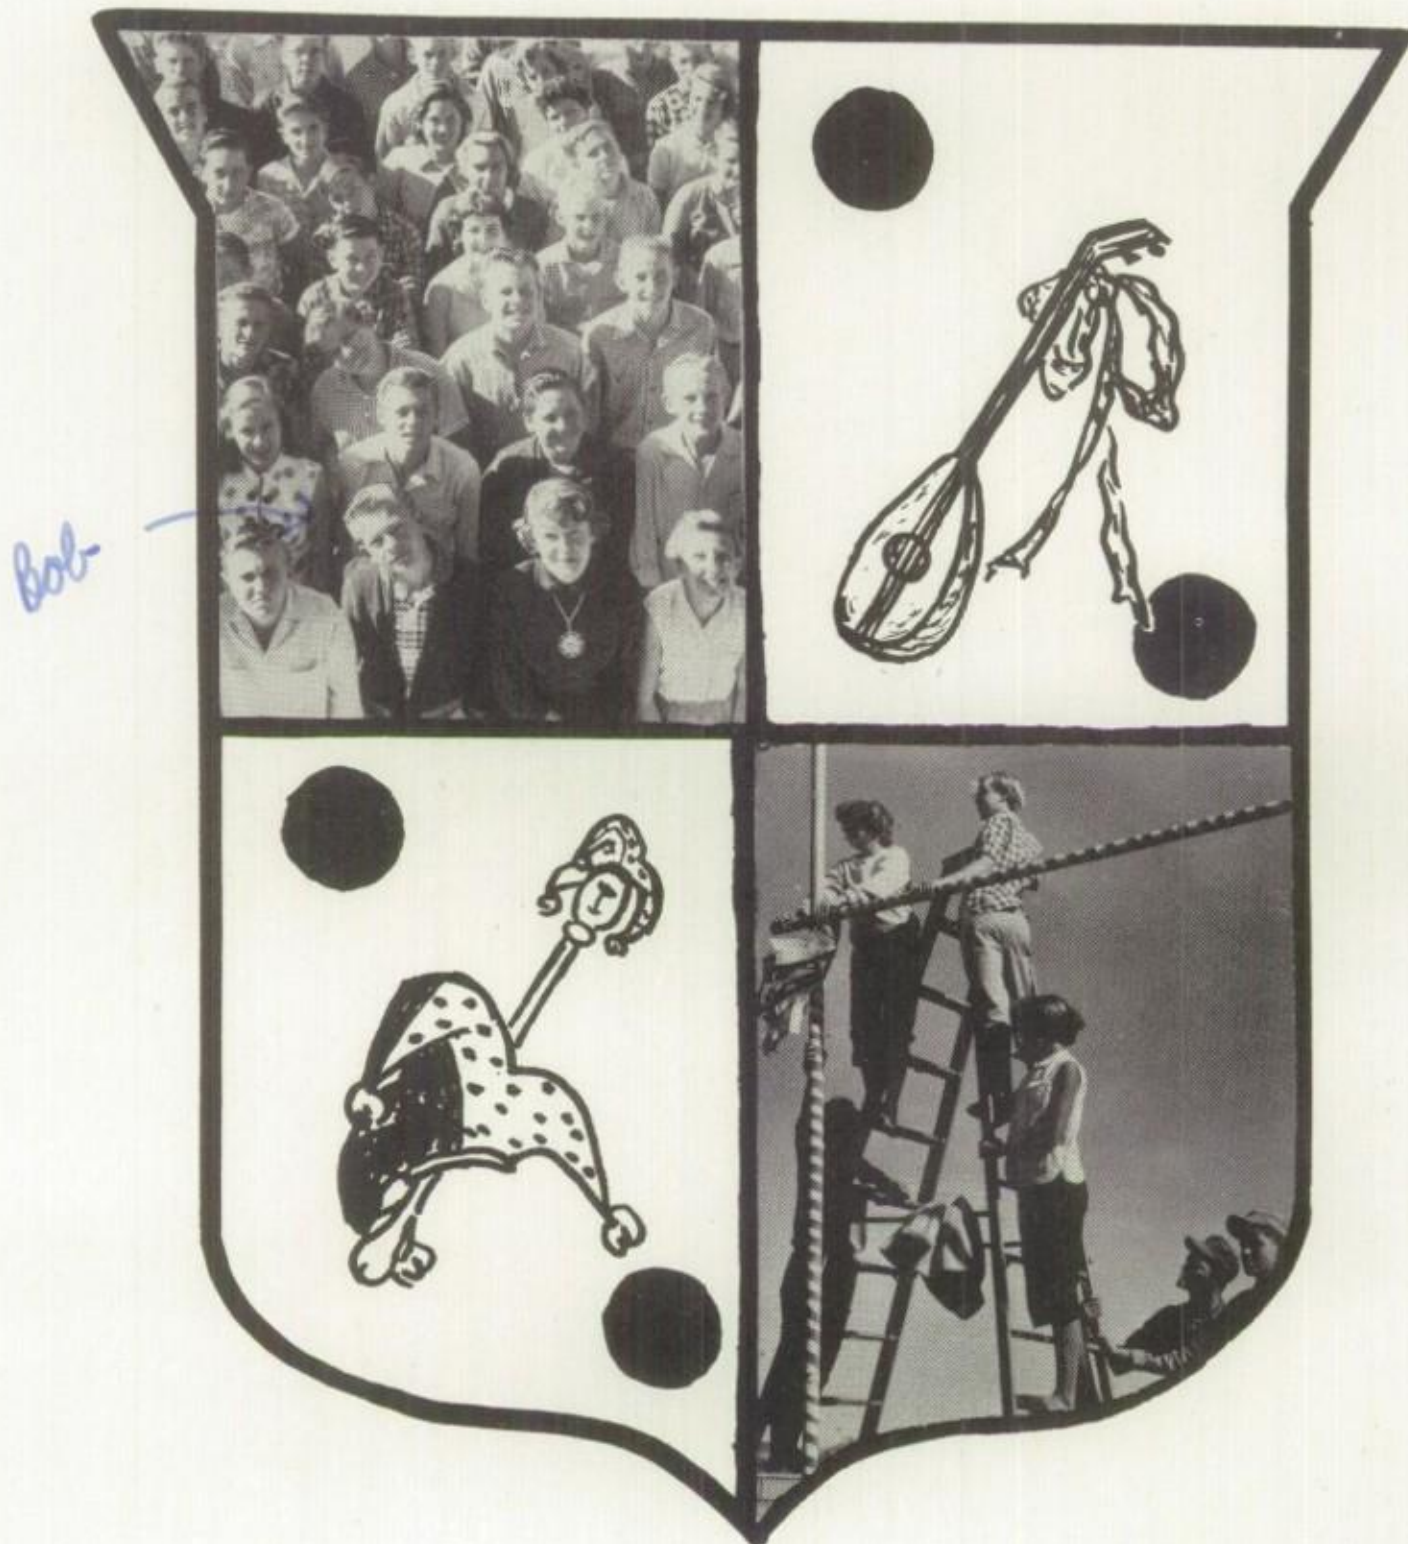

Hands

Hungry actors! With the help of student body members, our cooks serve us nutritious lunches each day.

Something new has been added to the scene this year. Our cafeteria manager, Mrs. Gene White, and her cooks, Anna Burkhart, Dorothy McCreary, and Natalie Ridel, have a busy schedule trying to feed all the hungry actors on the Burroughs stage.

Student body officers are: Deanna Ryan, secretary; Vernon Green, vice president; Darlene Lynn, treasurer; Kathy Cleary, president.

STUDENT COUNCIL has "no services to do, till you require". But BHS members require enough services to keep the officers and council busy constantly.

They back each school project and introduce those of their own—they "author" two school "interludes", the Carnival and Homecoming. The council treasury also finances the school athletic program.

Members of the CALIFORNIA SCHOLARSHIP FEDERATION earn their enjoyment! The school gains respect through their academic leadership.

Each year CSF takes a trip for both knowledge and pleasure. Dances, bake sales, and contributions from community organizations financed this year's journey to Los Angeles. Highlighting the trip was the tour of the U.C.L.A. campus.

The group adviser was Miss Sweeney; officers were Joy Nelson, president; John Hoyem, vice president-treasurer; Darla Forsythe, secretary.

Pictured above is Dr. Robert Sterling Hicks, noted educator, who was featured as guest speaker at the CSF Banquet through the courtesy of the Parent Teacher Association. The Banquet was held in honor of newly accepted Federation members.

PEP CLUB "hath put a spirit of youth in everything"! Members spend long hours painting posters for coming sports events, decorating the cheering sections, and co-operating with Student Council to make Homecoming a huge success. Their other events through the year are the Cotton Ball, and the Aloha Dance, honoring the graduating class.

The officers this year are (below) Sallye Walden, treasurer; Suzanne Hough, secretary; Rose Marie Ambrose, president; and Davidena Fisher, vice president. They lead the group which "produces" our school spirit!

BACHELORS' CLUB—these “good men and true,” led by Chief Chef Tom Jordan, encourage sportsmanship in the Desert-Inyo League by welcoming opposing teams as they arrive at the Gate; and by serving them a snack when the game is over.

GIRLS' LEAGUE belongs to all of the girls. Through the publication of a Student Handbook to educate newcomers in the ways of our school, and through their many other activities, they have helped to draw back the curtains and give a glimpse of our "play".

Officers are Frances Aldrich, secretary-treasurer; Monica Young, president.

League officers are Earl Powers, secretary-treasurer; Tom Jordan, president.

By sponsoring activities that include all Burroughs males, the BOYS' LEAGUE encourages fellowship and develops a feeling of belonging among new students. They assemble several times during a year for special programs. The first lecture the boys attended explained hunters' safety.

FTA leaders are Cheryl Goode, president; Mike Barta, vice president; Linda Costello, secretary-treasurer; Kay McCandlish, historian.

The purpose of the FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA CLUB, organized last year, is to stimulate interest in teaching among high school students.

The Burroughs chapter of FTA published and distributed a school calendar as a service for the Parent Teacher Association and served the community by creating displays and presenting a skit for Public Schools Week. Each year one of their graduating members is awarded a two hundred dollar scholarship by the China Lake Education Association.

Future Teachers of America

"What have we here?" A huge outdoor bulletin board, presented to the school by the FTA group. The project was completed in co-operation with the Blockbuster staff, which has the responsibility of posting school, national, and world news on the board each day. Pictured at left are John Battistone, in charge of construction; Mr. K. W. Westcott, vice principal; Cheryl Goode, FTA president; and Kathy Cleary, student body president.

EL BURRO—by arriving early in the morning and by staying late at night, the events of the year have been recorded for you to remember. You can count our gray hairs and note our chewed fingernails, but the special pride that goes with this work cannot be measured.

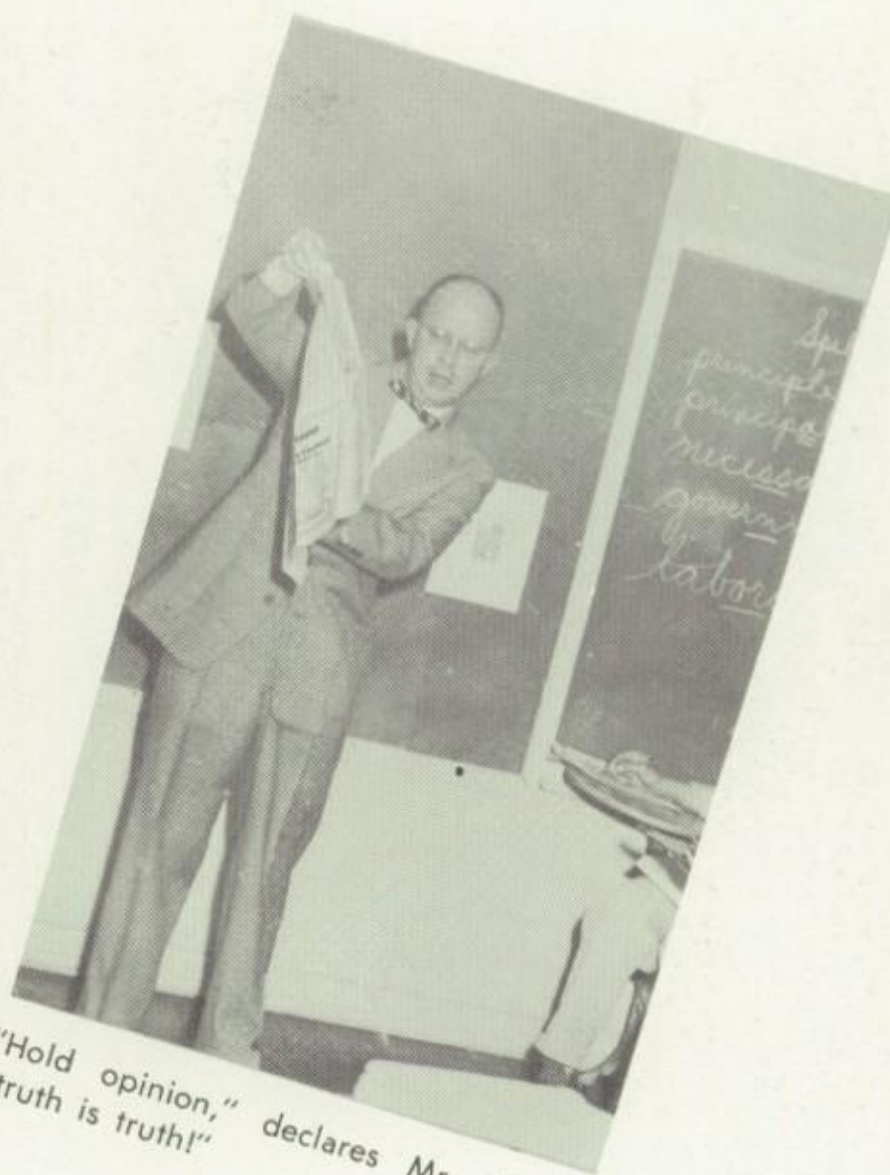

Editor-in-chief was Joy Nelson; Monica Young, business manager; Dawn Hayford, art editor; John Hoyem, Maurice Clifton, and John Holmes, photographers.

Hard at work during Easter vacation are John Holmes, Mr. Young, annual adviser, and Joyce Kirby.

THE BLOCKBUSTER staff keeps a "chronicle of day by day" for Burroughs students by posting school, national, and world news clippings on campus bulletin boards. Bi-weekly they publish the regular Blockbuster school paper in the Ridgecrest Times Herald. A "backshop" tour of Hubbard Printing and a series of lectures added to the staff's understanding of journalism.

The group is actually a journalism class, instructed by Mr. Wayne C. Harsh; members receive full credit for the course.

"Hold opinion,"
"truth is truth!" declares Mr. Harsh,

THE FOREIGN LANGUAGE CLUB was formed this year to stimulate interest in the languages, customs and peoples of the world.

The group has been busy writing their constitution, planning to acquire pen pals in foreign countries, and learning foreign dances (ole!) These projects have brought much enjoyment to the members and have put "rhythm and harmony into the plots" of our school activities.

Introducing —

Burrough's two newest clubs, designed for those with special interests.

ART CLUB

The artists "do paint the meadows with delight" when they go on their outings to the mountains, the desert, or just to a place on the campus.

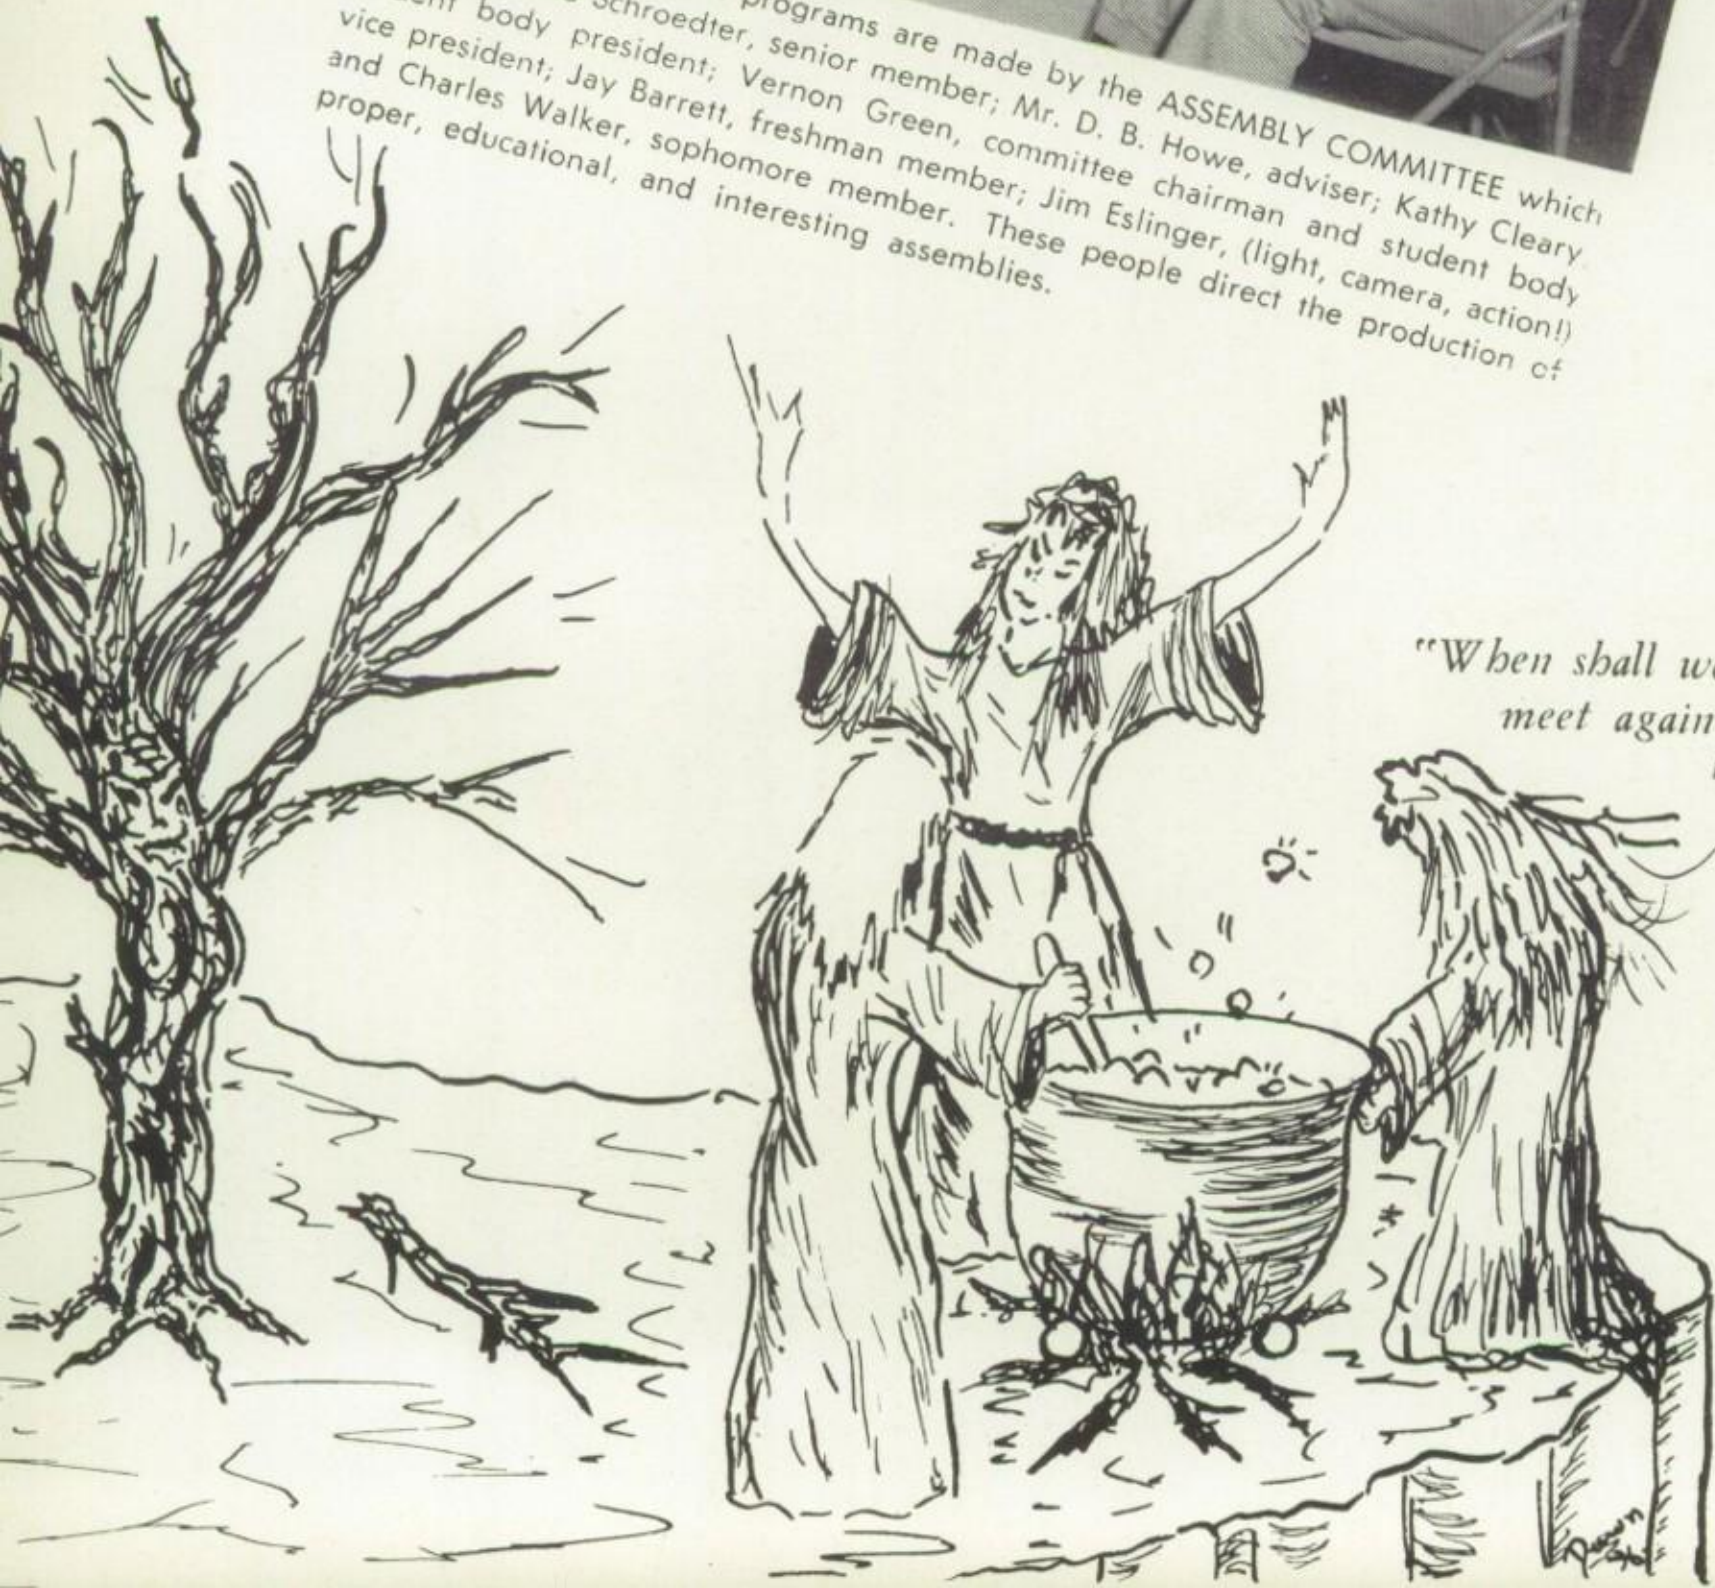

Being a new club the ideas are new and many people are interested. We hope their projects will be successful.

Plans for all-school programs are made by the ASSEMBLY COMMITTEE which includes Jackie Schroedter, senior member; Mr. D. B. Howe, adviser; Kathy Cleary, student body president; Vernon Green, committee chairman and student body vice president; Jay Barrett, freshman member; Jim Eslinger, (light, camera, action!) and Charles Walker, sophomore member. These people direct the production of proper, educational, and interesting assemblies.

"When shall we three meet again?"

MACBETH

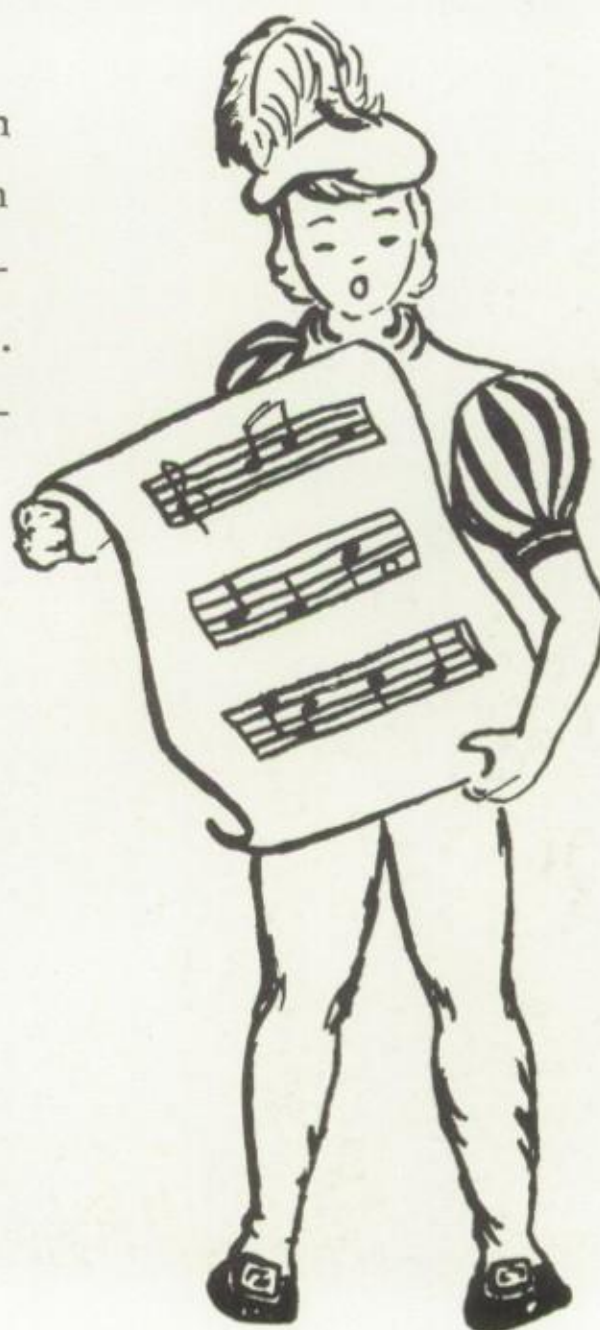

"He makes sweet music . . ."
THE TWO GENTLEMEN OF VERONA

Music is everywhere. It is in us yearning to be released. This might be the reason we worked so hard to help raise funds for new band uniforms and choir robes.

Maybe this is why we feel the way we do when we see our band marching down the gridiron or when we read that our "honor" choir is singing in Bakersfield. We feel that a part of us is there too. And . . . what is the stage of life without music in the background?

Homecoming

Burroughs' 10th Annual Homecoming served to carry on "a thing of custom." Alumni and students were swept into a whirl of festivities — a pep rally around a bonfire, a gala parade, an exciting game, a dance with the solid beat of a band, and two banquets, one honoring alumni, the other honoring the football teams and their fathers.

The lively Homecoming days, in the memory of those who enjoyed them, will be "more than things long past."

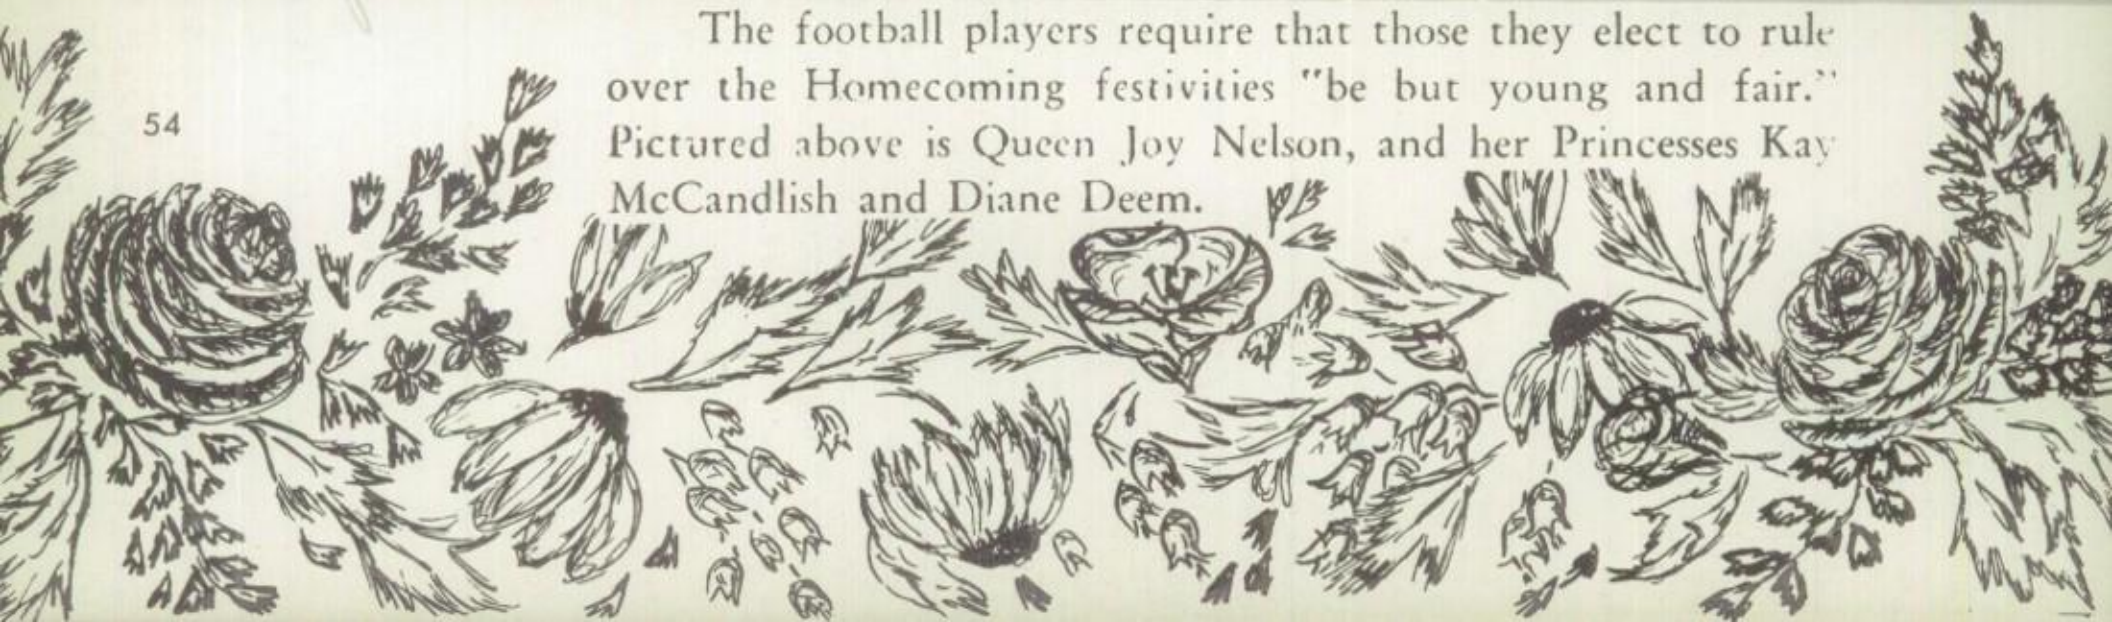

As gay as an Elizabethan pageant was this year's Homecoming Parade with its colorful floats designed to reflect the theme, "Adventures in Movie Land."

"Touch of sweet harmony..."

THE MERCHANT OF VENICE

Soft music by Hal Campbell's Millionaires, "blue notes" by the Bakersfield Junior College quartet, decorations suited to the theme "Birth of the Blues"—all combined to make the Senior Ball a memorable evening.

Gathered around the punch bowl are (left) Erwin Porter, Clay Carroll, Doug Cowan, Kelvin Bennett, John Hoyem, John Booty, and Don Wright. Bobbette Deem is the server.

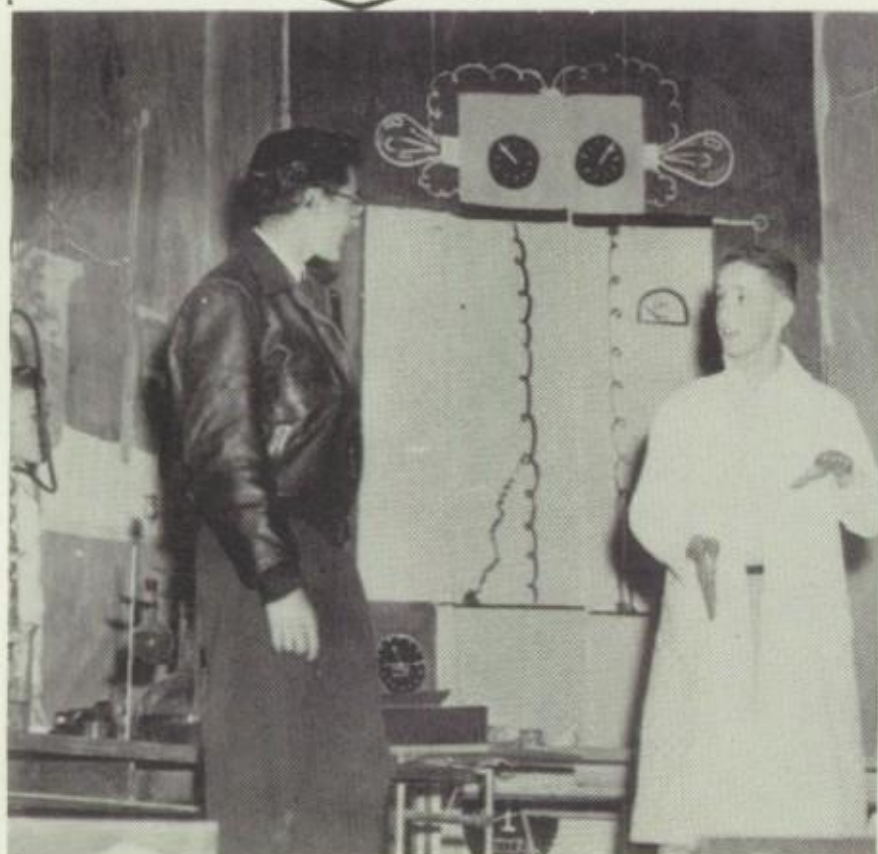

The juniors captured first place by presenting a gay and humorous comedy entitled ROMEO AND JULIE. Starred as the reincarnated Romeo was Tom Zurn; Diane Deem portrayed the fair Juliet, alias Miss Beene.

A SWISS MIRACLE, with dancing dolls coming to life at magic midnight, was the sophomores' contribution to the class play competition. Featured as the combination Master of Ceremonies and Jack-in-the-Box was Gary Reynolds. The doll around which the play was centered was Pat Whitley.

Burroughs' talented freshmen took a trip into DIMENSION UNKNOWN, where they met dancing monsters, special watch-dogs, and all the unexpected. Cast in the starring roles were Bill Sturgeon, Linda Dial, Doug Chartier, Bob Klavetter, and Bill Davis.

A love-tragedy entitled COLETTE was presented by the seniors. The story of a gay but ill-fated Parisian socialite and her lover starred Janet Waldron and Jay Parsell. The cast also included Dawn Hayford, Kent Dudley, Suzie Pierce, Maurice Clifton, Jim Tucker, Charles Nelson, and many others.

Socks, in the language of the theater, mean comedy; but to Burroites they mean "Soc Hop", an evening of dancing in fancy footwear. The annual affair was held in the Cafetorium, decorated lavishly in pink-and-charcoal socks by the sponsoring sophomores.

MIDSUMMER'S NIGHT DREAM

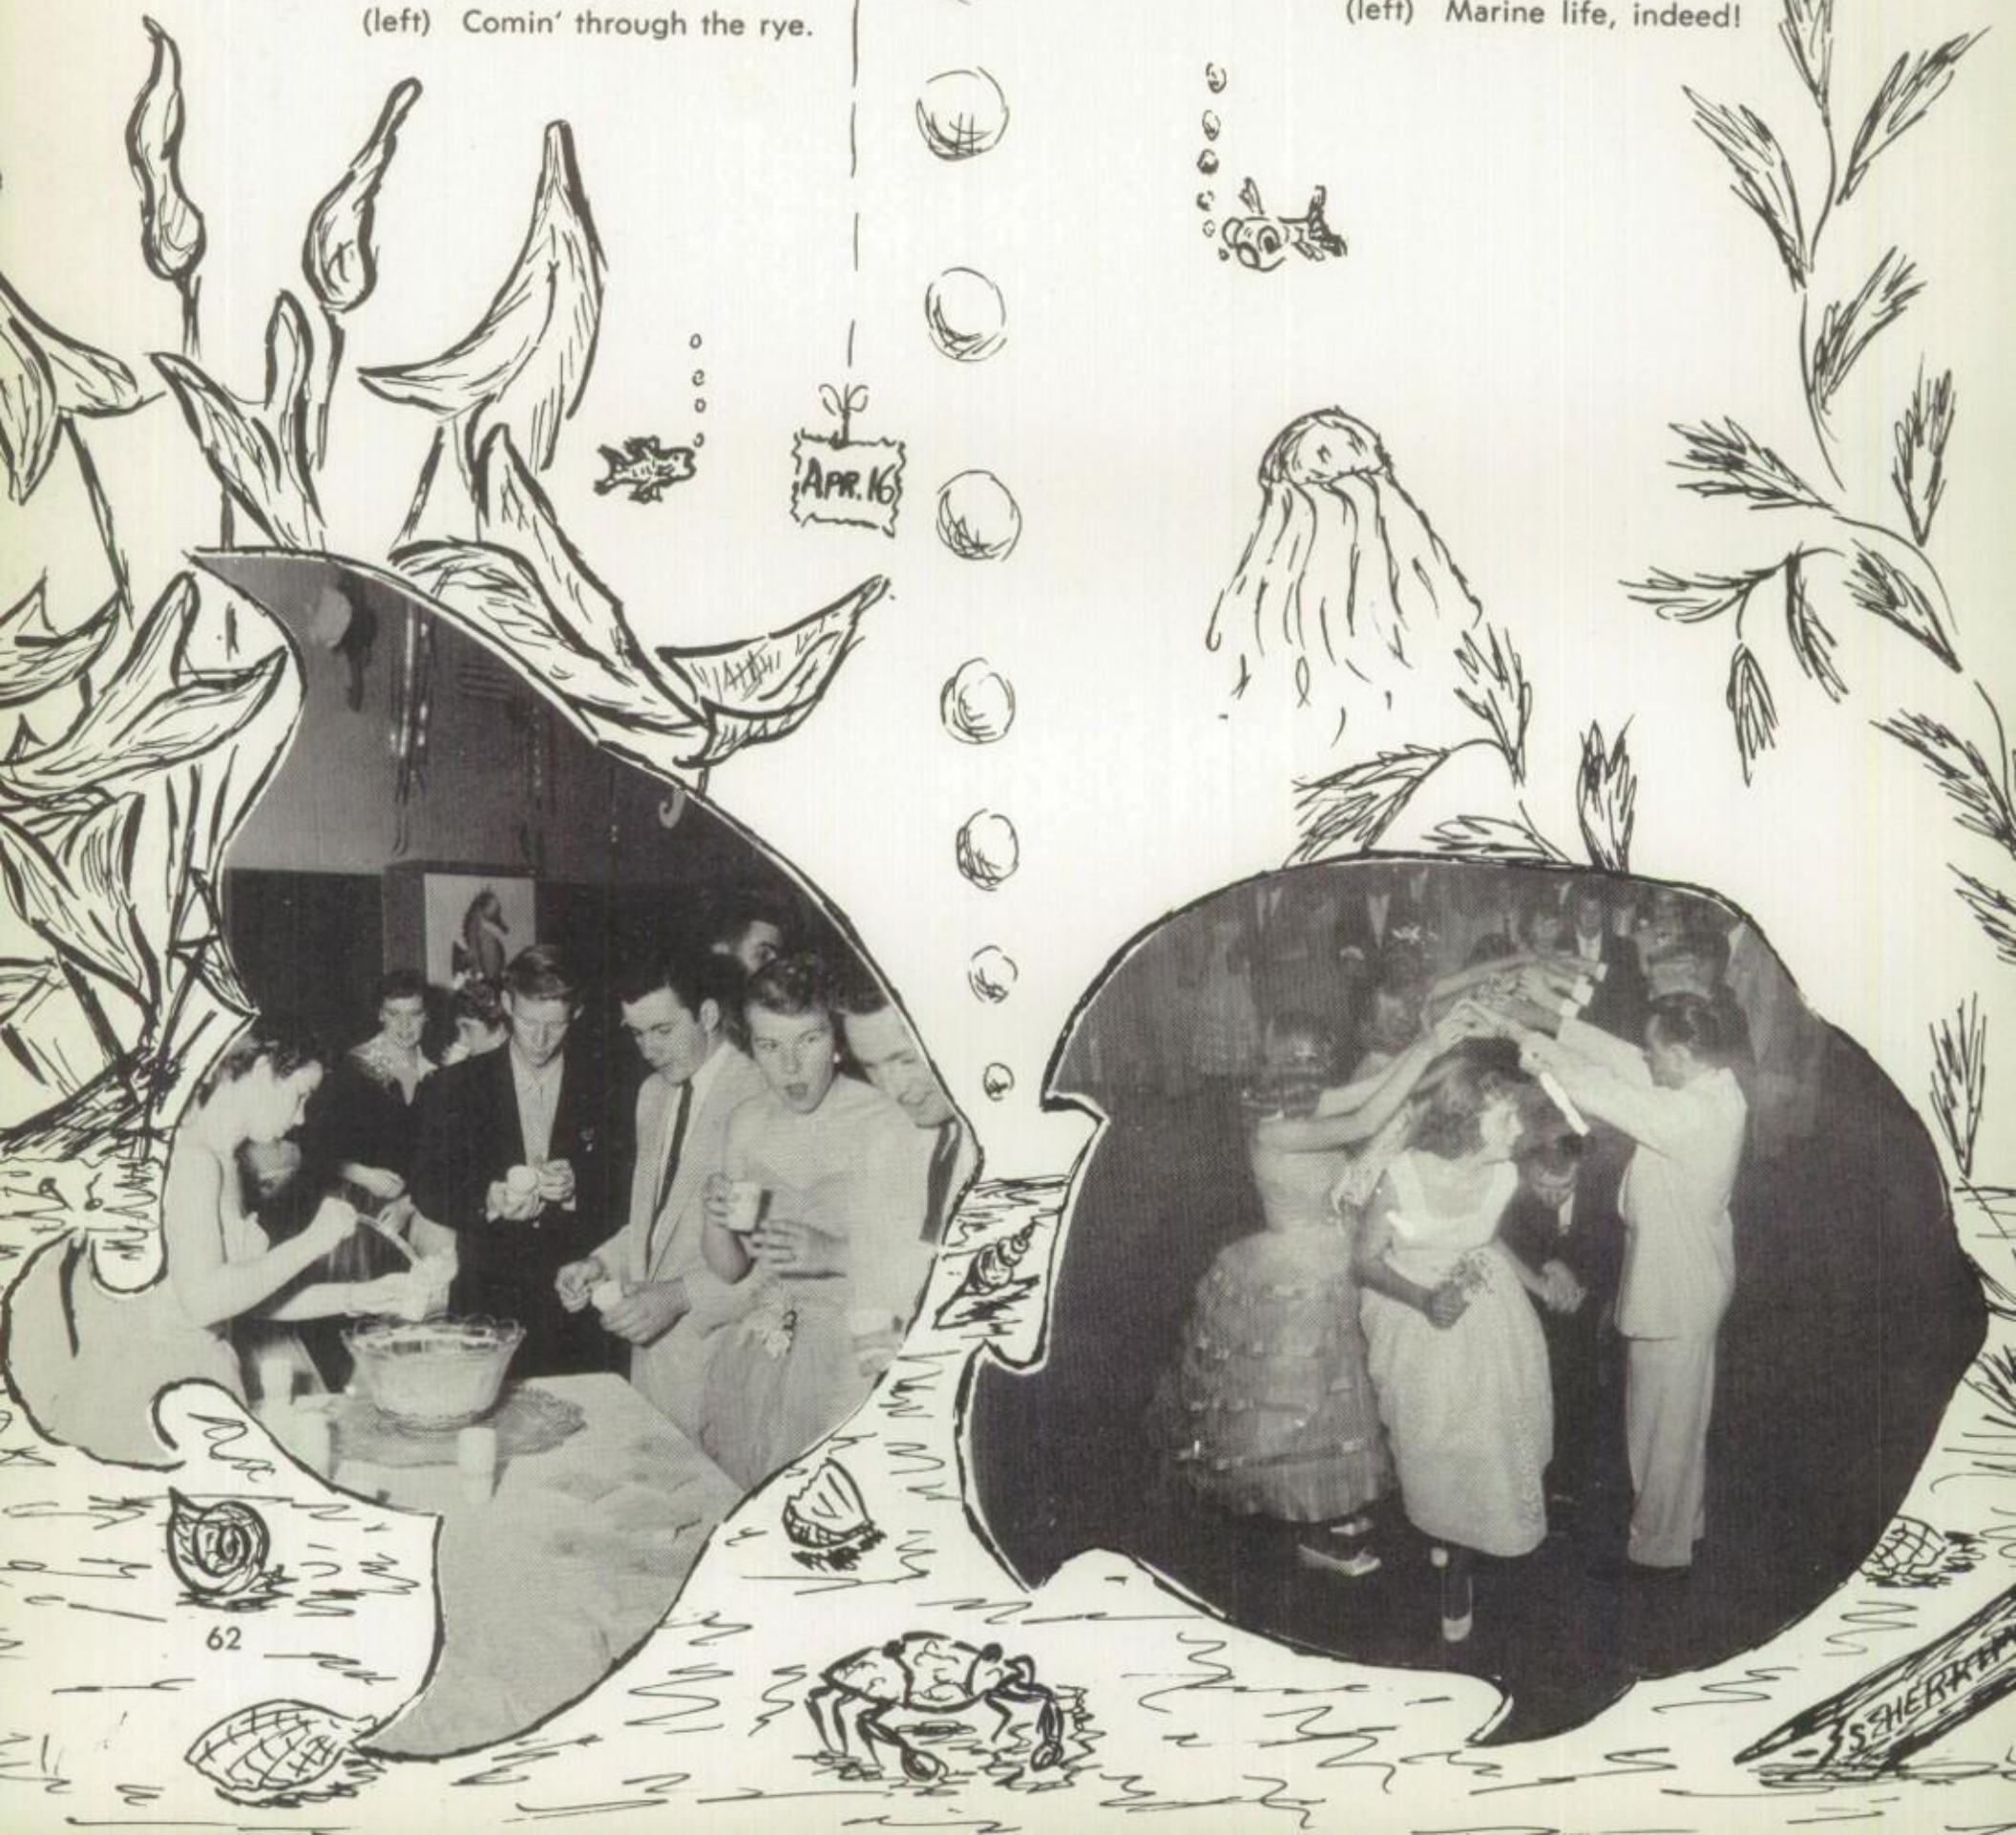

Junior Prom

An "Aquatic Fantasy" with marine life of all shapes and colors under a sea of blue light was presented by the class of 1956 in the cafetorium on April 16. Dance music was furnished by Hal Campbell and his Millionaires . . . Then the moment came for the announcement that the Queen of the Prom was Rose Marie Ambrose. This year, because of a tie in the voting, there were three princesses, Deanna Ryan, Gwenell Fisher, and Darla Forsythe. This was an evening that will long be remembered . . .

The KELLY AWARD, given each year to a football player for outstanding sportsmanship and citizenship, is kept top secret until the day of announcement. This year, as the student body held its collective breath, Harry Smith (left) was called to the stage to receive this honor. Nominees (pictured above, right) were Woodrow Chartier, Tom Jordan, and Gary Stevenson.

"What is in that word honour?"

KING HENRY IV

For the two juniors who were honored by being selected to attend BOYS AND GIRLS STATE, there is the opportunity to learn by experience the rights and duties of a citizen. Burroughs' Boys State alternate (shown left) is France Adamson; delegate, John Booty. Girls State delegate is Diane Deem; her alternate, Suzie Hough.

"So shines a good deed."
MERCHANT OF VENICE

Two seniors are elected each year by their classmates to receive the BABE RUTH FOUNDATION SPORTSMANSHIP AWARD, for their all-round good sportsmanship and thoughtfulness. The Class of '55 chose Rose Marie Ambrose and Tom Jordan. "In honor of Babe Ruth whose contribution to American youth will live forever."

These "happy few" were awarded certificates of achievement through the BANK OF AMERICA program, which recognizes high school students for excellence in their special fields of interest. They are from left: Adrian Hansing, industrial arts; John Holmes, laboratory science; Patricia Stevens, music; Marvin Mellinger, art; Joy Nelson and John Hoyem, cupwinners; George Stillwell, mathematics. Not shown are Gwenell Fisher, home economics, and Deanna Ryan, commercial arts. Joy Nelson and John Hoyem received gold cups in the general fields of liberal arts, and science and mathematics, respectively.

"I hear sweet music"
THE MERCHANT OF VENICE

Founded in 1953 in memory of popular Glen Biggers, the Annual Memorial Music Award to the outstanding music student was presented this year to Patricia Stevens, who intends to make music her career.

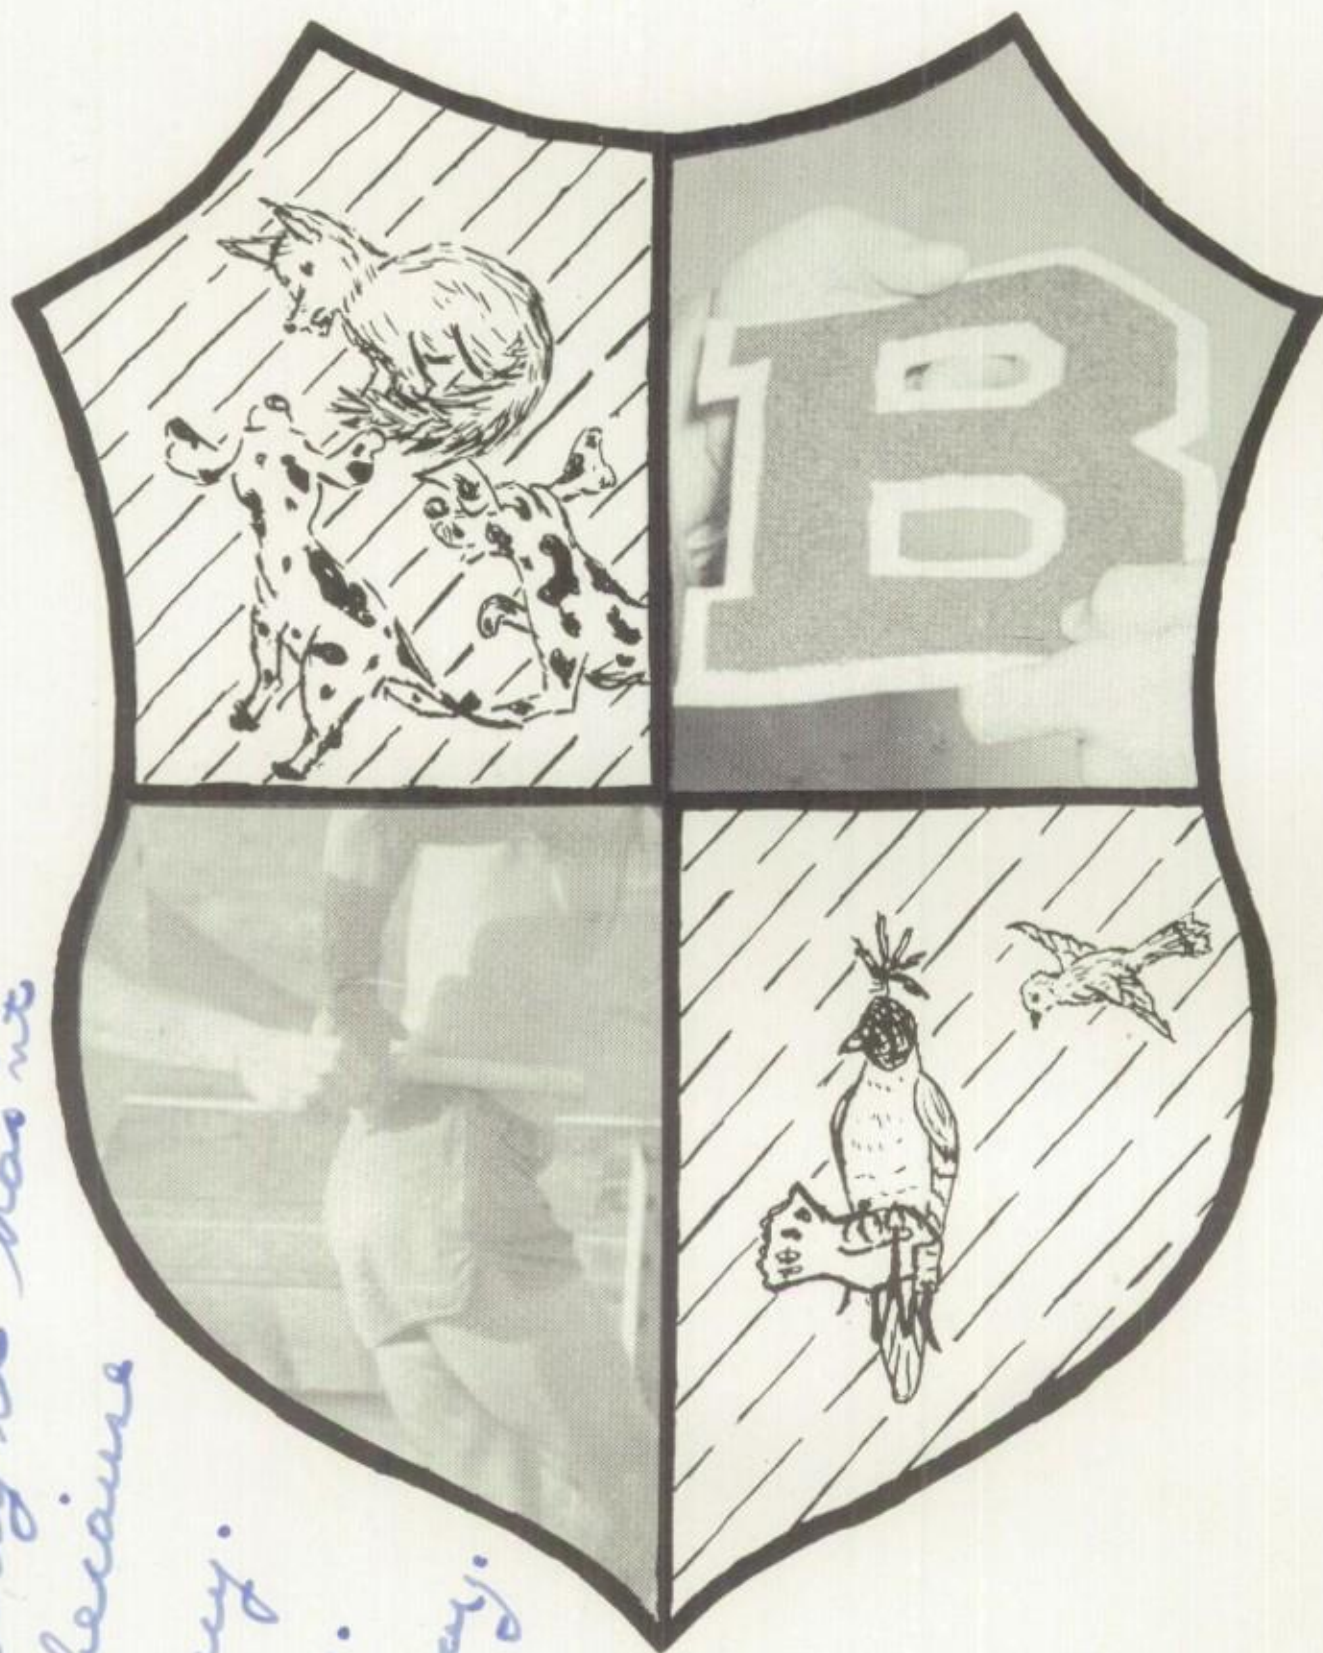

"Purest snow"! An occurrence so startling that the whole school was "turned upside down" for a week. "Whom should I knock?"

"There is a time for all things," but it is always time for recreation . . .

In the girls' gym classes, the female gender has a chance to try out for many sports such as volleyball, tennis, basketball, and field hockey—along with calisthenics. During the fall and spring, swimming is also among the array of gym activities. Under the supervision of Miss Elliott and Miss Green, the girls become quite capable of challenging competition, as was proven in the inter-class basketball tournament. The P.E. program affords the girls the opportunity to practice the ideals of fair play and to acquire the skills that will make their spare time more enjoyable.

This year for the first time, the girls had a chance to play hockey.

(First row) Rose Marie Ambrose, Kay McCandlish, Deanna Ryan, Jackie Parks, Ellen Read, Barbara Smith, Joan Burkhardt, Susie Pierce.

(Second row) Jackie Schroedter, Joan Parks, Joan Weston, Carol Bussolini, Janie Hemenway, Sue Greenfield, Jackie Ambrose, Frances Aldrich.

The men who participated in medieval tournaments were honored by fair maidens; however, today the girls also receive honors for their participation in sports.

A recent addition to the campus is the GIRLS' LETTER CLUB, the main purpose of which is to keep the welfare of visiting cheerleaders and songleaders in mind, and to promote girls' athletics throughout the school.

The Girls' Letter Club also sponsors activities such as the Levi Dance and picnics for members and their guests.

The tournaments of chivalry during the Shakespearian era have given way to a far more enjoyable program of sports.

Playdays and modern tournaments are only two of the many activities sponsored by the GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION, which is composed of athletic- and fun-minded girls. In its years of existence at Burroughs, the GAA has contributed greatly to the school scene.

Under the able leadership of Joan Burkhardt, president, the GAA sponsored the Sadie Hawkins' Day Dance, and presented the Aquacade. Miss Elliot advised these groups.

(Second row) Mr. Moore, Mr. Westcott, Mr. Meeder, Miss Green, Mr. Weightman.

The awarding of merits to men who did well in tournaments years ago was quite an affair. Today the ceremony doesn't have such splendor, but those who are chosen by the ATHLETIC BOARD to receive letters couldn't be prouder.

The recipients of athletic letters are then qualified to become members of the LETTERMEN'S CLUB (shown below) which is the athletic honor society.

Coach Meeder

Coach Weightman

The A football squad this year was the largest ever, so they elected tri-captains — Tom Jordan, Bob Wilson, and Harry Smith. At all times, the teams exhibited good sportsmanship and teamwork. Harry Smith was named to the all-league first team and Woodrow Chartier and Gary Stevenson were selected for the all-league second squad. Mr. Meeder, assisted by Mr. Gilkinson, coached the A team.

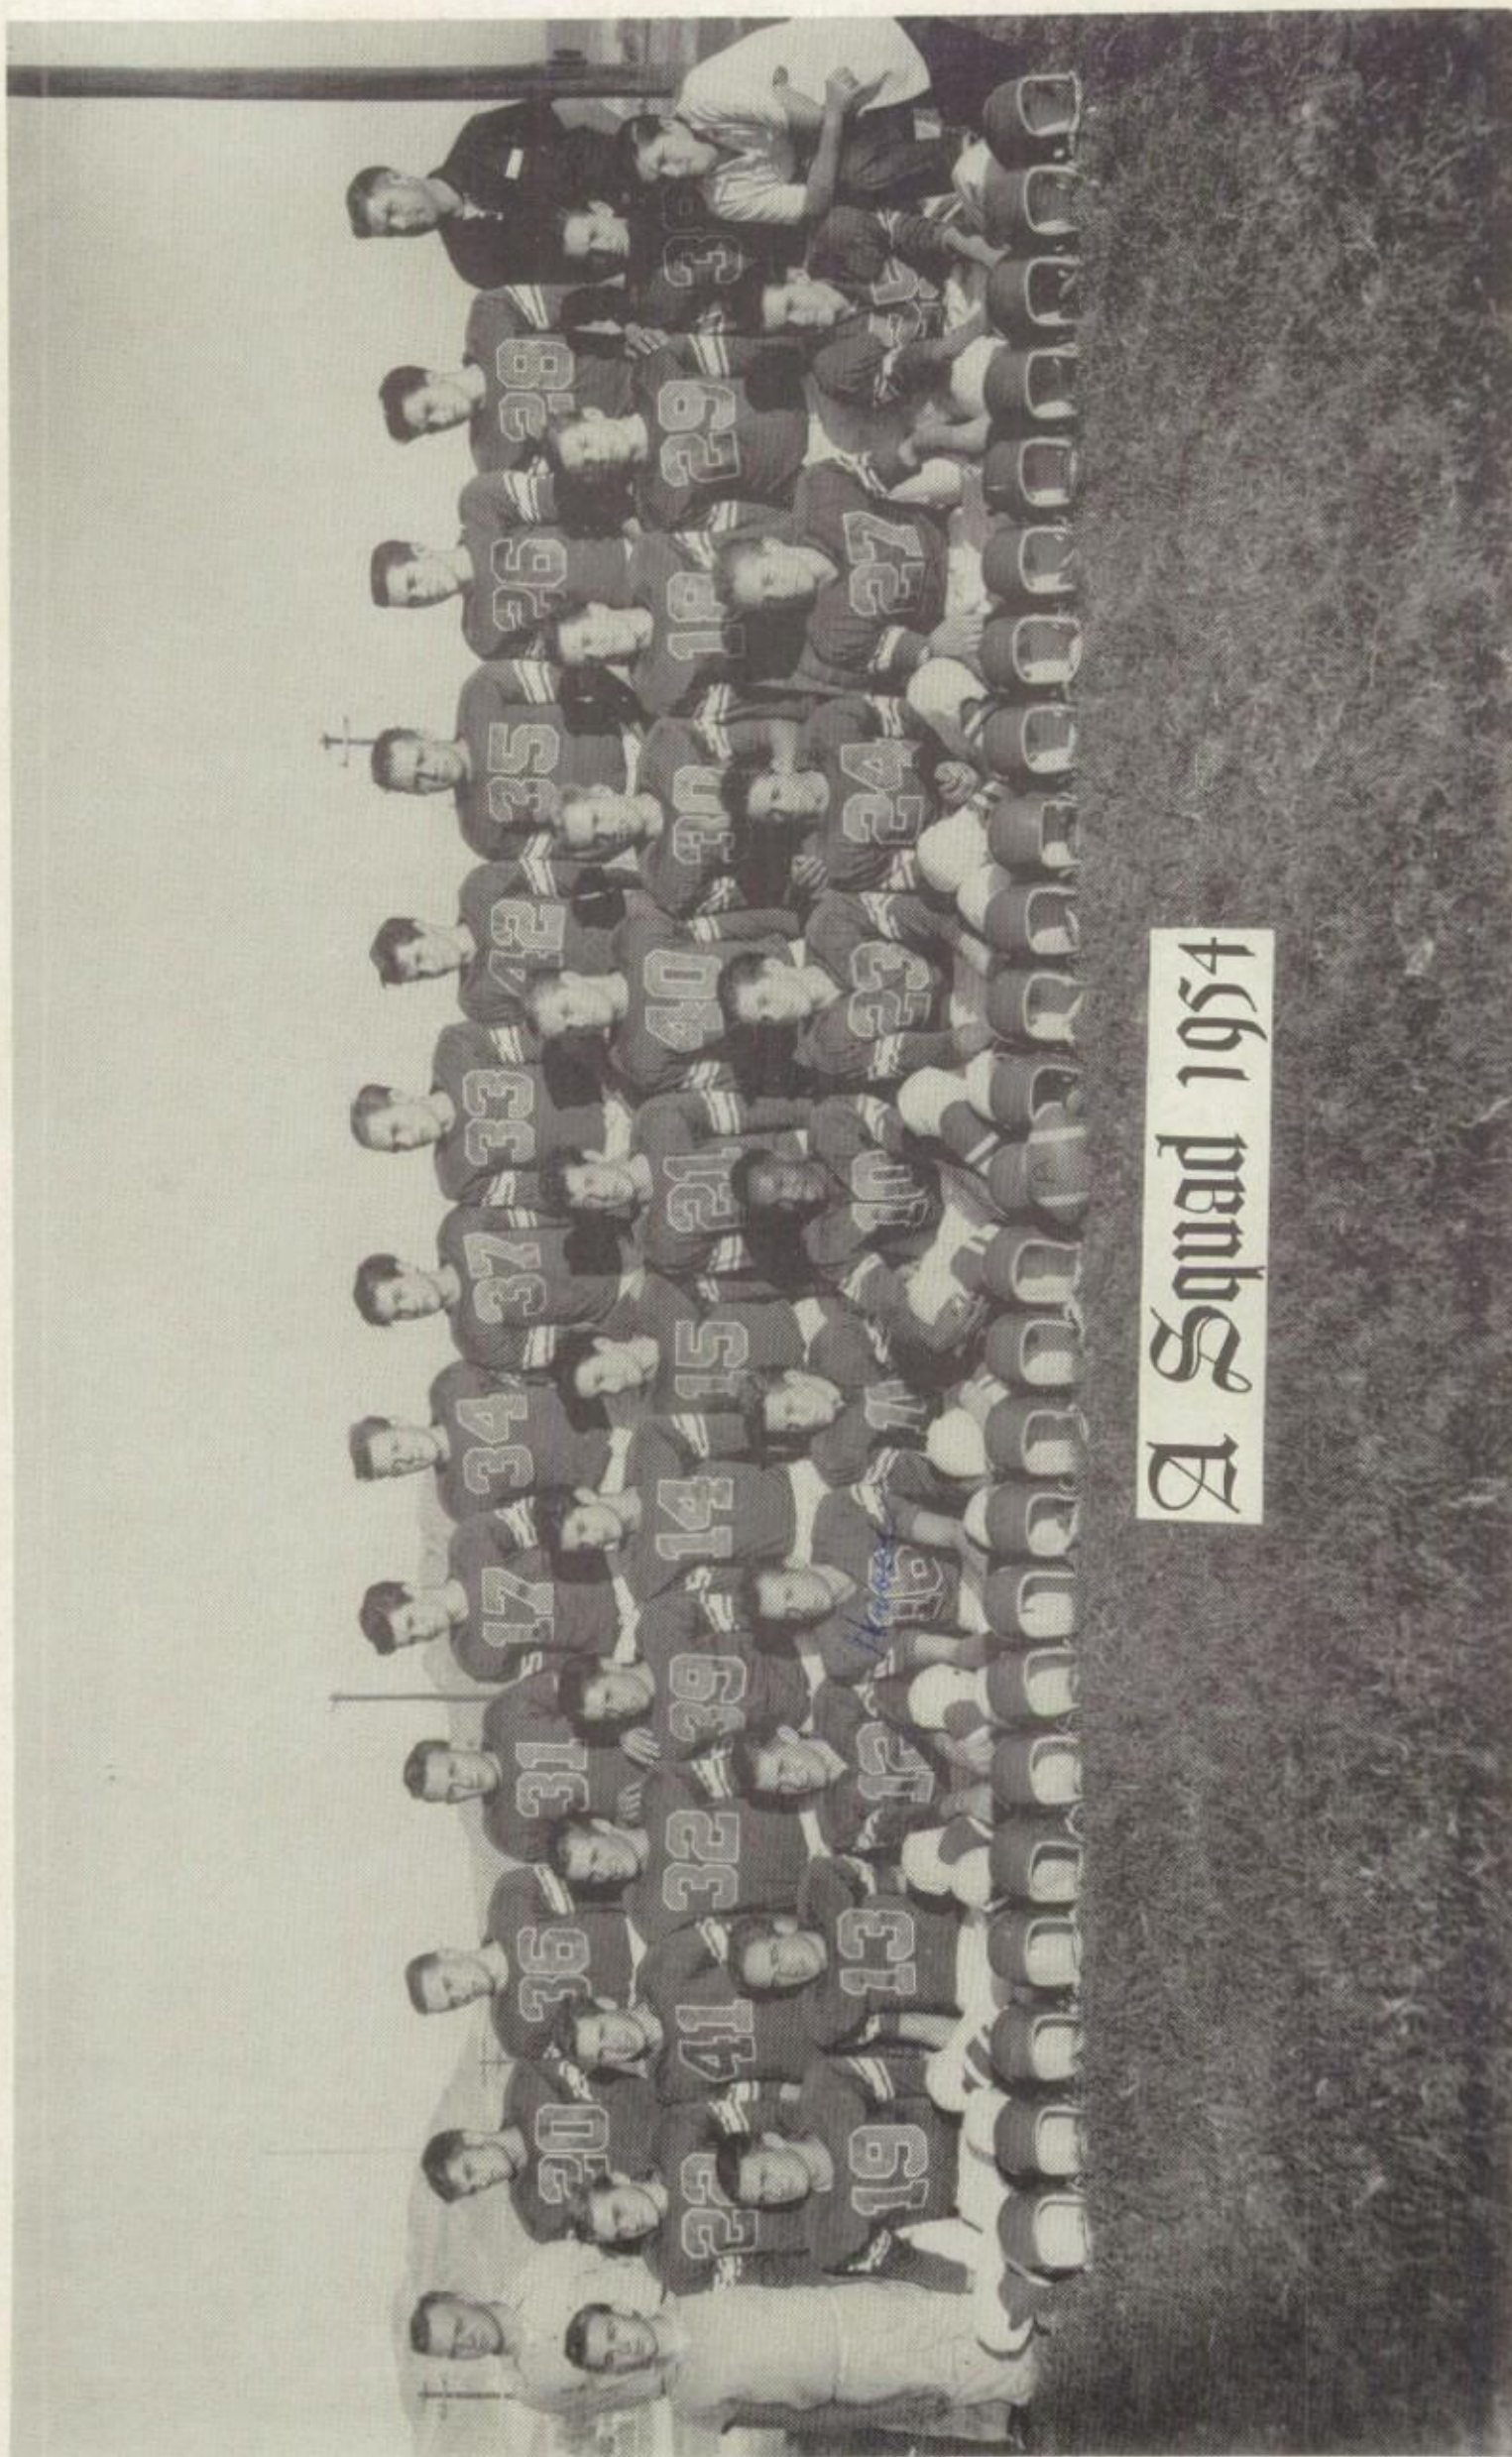

Mr. Weightman and Mr. Schwilke coached the B team to a string of five wins to three losses. Earl Powers and Mike Crom were elected to serve as co-captains this year. The Bees showed especially good teamwork — their best game was with Bishop.

"The winds of March" brought baseball, and with it came a major change — the original team was reformed as a varsity and junior varsity.

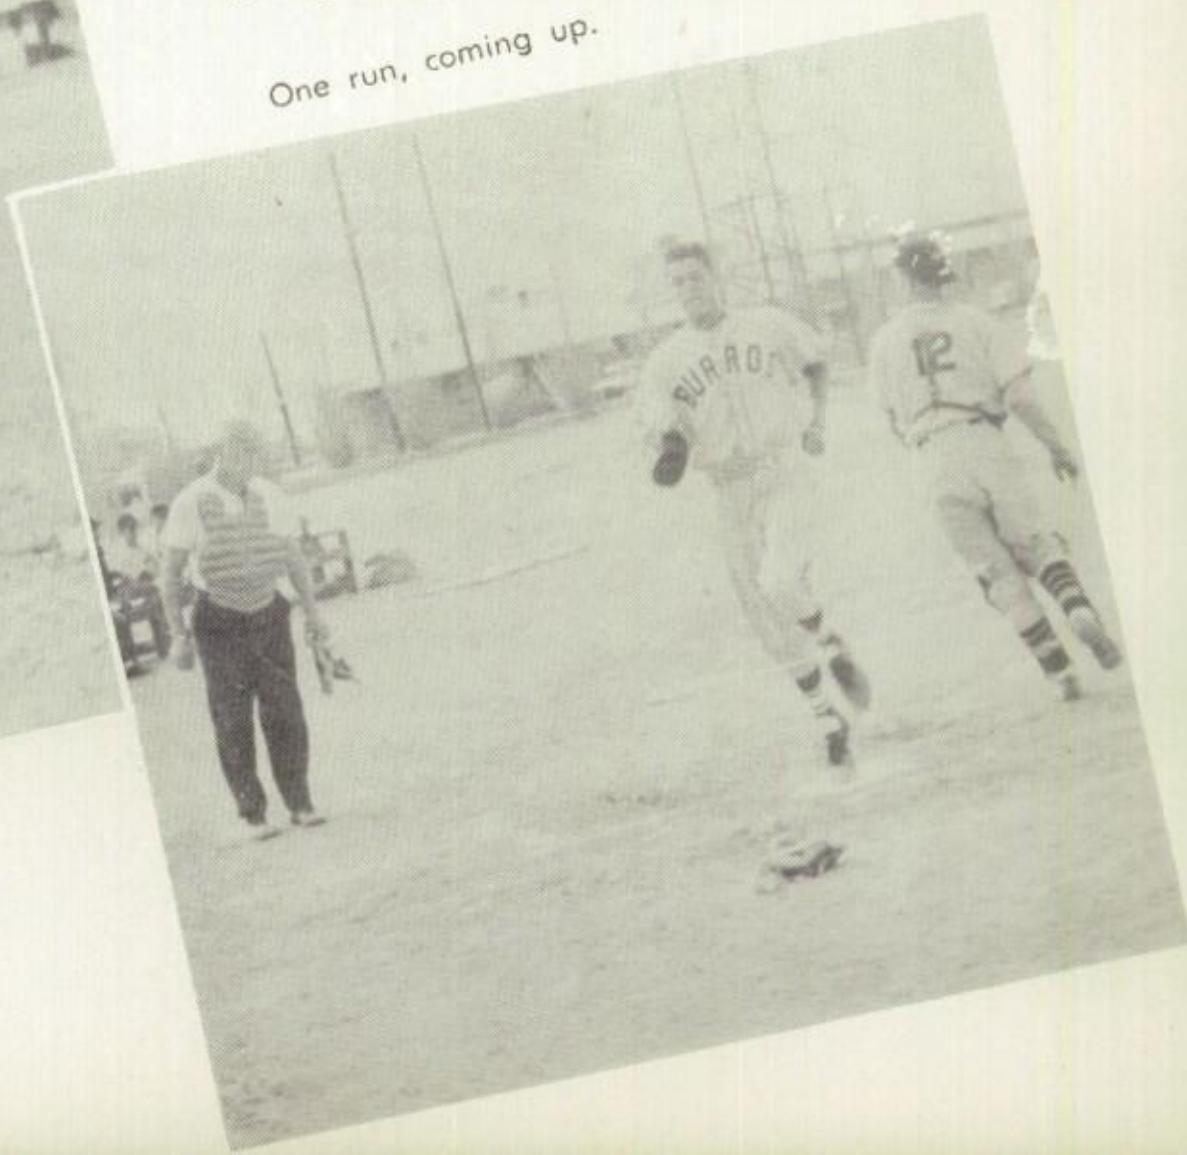

The varsity, working as a "band of brothers" under Mr. Meeders vigorous coaching had a most successful season.

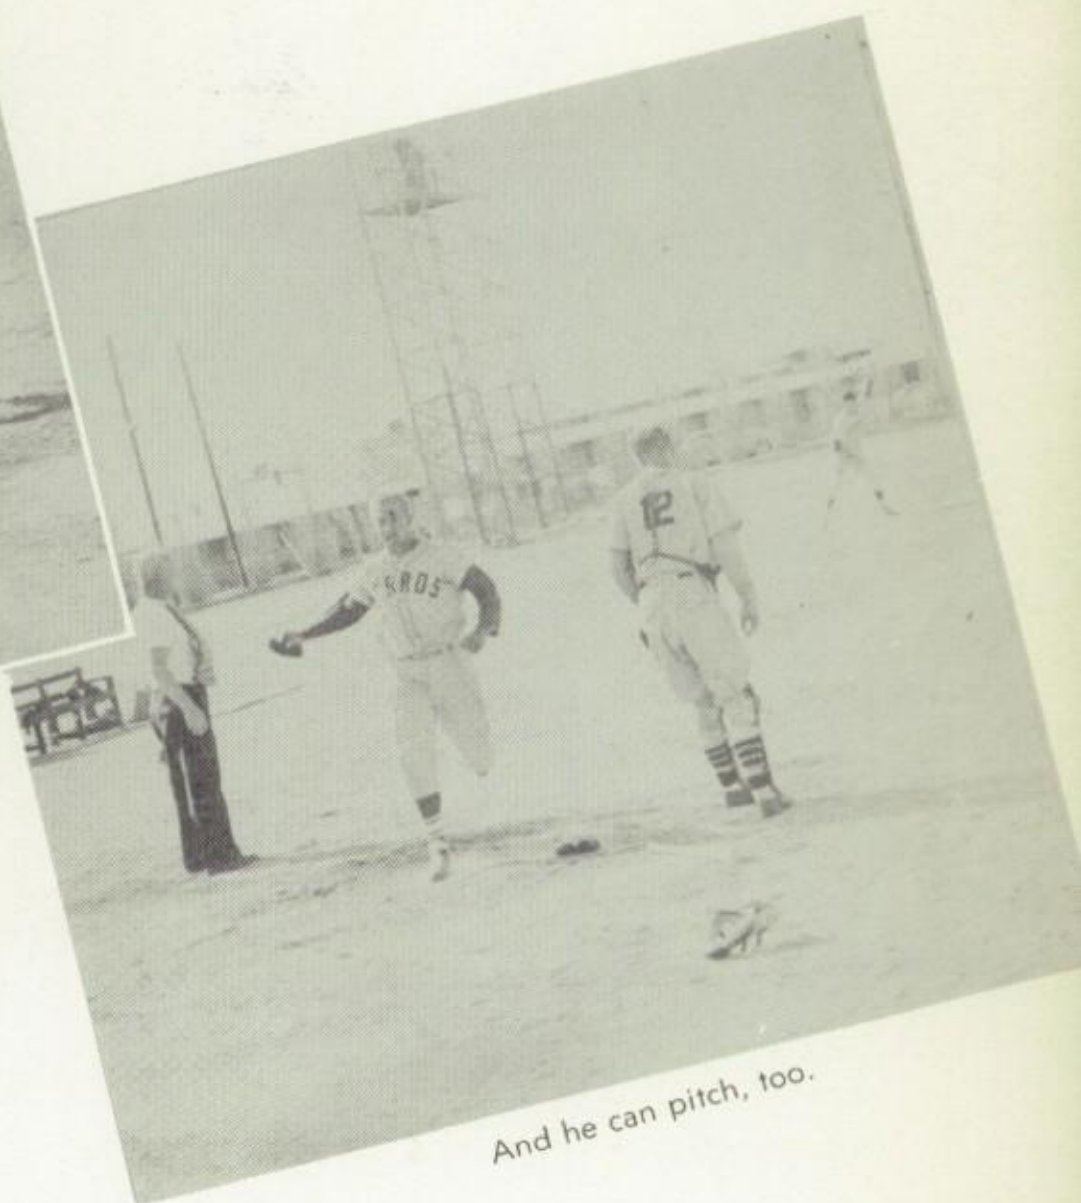

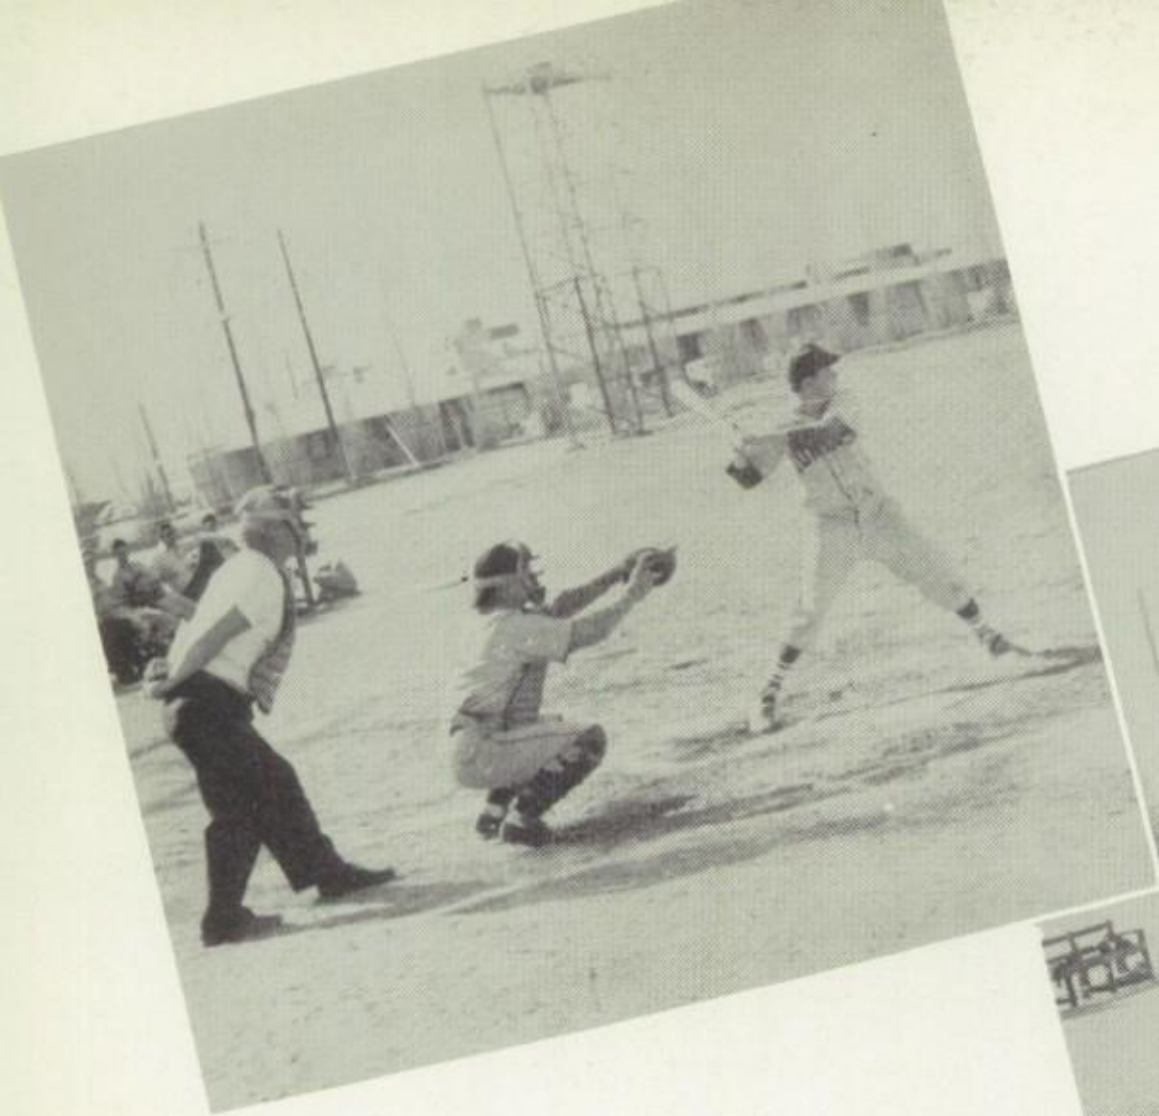

In its first year junior varsity baseball has shown promise of becoming one of our most popular spring sports. Under the enthusiastic coaching of Mr. Moore, this young organization has made great strides toward its goal of providing a spring team sport for boys who are not grouped under the "A" classification.

Reach for it!
